

ACT - champions awards and training grants.

ACT the Association for children's palliative care have launched a new Champions Awards Scheme. They are asking children, young people, parents and carers to tell ACT about their 'Champions' so they can recognise and celebrate their role in making a difference to their quality of life. You can nominate any individual, team or organisation that has helped you, however, they must work in England.

For further information of the awards and to nominate your Champion visit

<http://www.act.org.uk>

Additionally, ACT want to ensure that all life-limited children and their families get the highest standards of care and support. They are offering grants to support parents, carers and professionals to maintain or improve their level of knowledge and skills in children's palliative care through training, conferences, seminars and professional development. They have received support from The True Colours Trust to award small training and development grants. Further information is available on their website

<http://www.act.org.uk>